EVAN POWELL ENGAGEMENT & CAPABILITY PROSPECTUS

WHY ENGAGE EVAN POWELL?

Inventory is one of the biggest hidden drains on profit and growth. It touches every part of your business, so optimising how it flows is critical to success.

Too much stock ties up millions in working capital.
Too little stock creates backorders and lost sales.

Poor processes lead to firefighting, expensive freight, and write-offs.

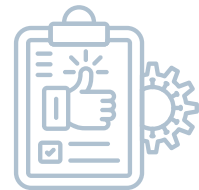

The result? Margins erode, customers are frustrated, and your team spends more time fixing problems than driving growth.

I help mid-sized to large Australian businesses take control of their inventory and supply chain.

Through proven frameworks, I:

- Free up working capital by reducing excess and obsolete stock.
- Implement better planning and replenishment systems so the right products are available when needed.
- Build visual tools and processes that teams actually use.
- Align inventory with sales, operations, and finance goals.

OUTCOMES I DELIVER

WHO I WORK WITH

- Manufacturers and FMCG brands
- Apparel and lifestyle companies
- E-commerce and distribution businesses
- Engineering and spare parts operations

If you hold inventory and it impacts service, cash flow, or profitability, I can help.

Businesses that build supply chain capability outperform their peers.

Those that leave inventory unchecked face:

- Balance sheets weighed down by stock that doesn't move.
- More production downtime and rising expedited freight costs.
- Margin erosion and missed sales opportunities.
- Teams stuck in firefighting mode instead of growth.
- Falling behind leaner, faster competitors.

WHAT IF I DON'T FIX MY INVENTORY
